New SJ Administrative Policy Revises Faculty Offices, Heads

by Bill Malley

St. Joseph's is a growing institution. This year there are more than 1,000 Pumas; more than ever before. When an institution expands, changes become necessary if standards are not to fall.

A committee on the revision of the faculty handbook, headed by Fr. Edward A. Maziarz, C.P.P.S., has been studying the college's administrative policy for the past two years. Acting on the results of this committee, the faculty last spring approved a new statement of administrative policy, effective Sept. 1, 1959.

Under this new policy, various faculty offices have been changed and the academic divisions revamped. The Dean of Men has been renamed the Dean of Students, with more responsibility than before. He will still be in charge of student disciplinary action, but he will also manage student social affairs now. The Health Center and the office of college Chaplain will also come under his care.

Academic Senate Created

The office of Coordinator of Student Affairs was abolished and the duties of that office split between the Academic Dean and the Dean of Students.

The faculty committee which must approve all changes of academic policy will now be called the Academic Senate. Fr. Maziarz will head the committee which consists of: Fr. Charles H. Banet, Fr. Alvin W. Druhan, Mr. Richard L. Kilmer, Fr. Henry J. Martin, Fr. Urban J. Siegrist, Fr. Rudolph Bierberg, Dr. Bryce J. Jones, Fr. Ernest A. Lucas (secretary), and Fr. Charles J. Robbins.

The college's six academic divisions have been broken down into departments within the divisions. Each department will have its own head who is under the head of the division.

Department Heads

For example, there was formerly one head for the entire division of religion-philosophy. Now, there is a department of religion and a department of philosophy within the division. Each department has its own head who is responsible to the head of the entire division.

According to Fr. Maziarz, this new system of divisions and departments strengthens course offerings and improves student counseling services. Department heads are installed for terms of one year and are eligible to repeat the following year.

The various heads of divisions and departments are listed below:
Divisions of business and economics: Dr. Bryce Jones, division head; Mr. Curtis H. Stanley, accounting; Dr. Robert W. Morell, business administration; Dr. Jones, economics.
Division of education: Fr. Ernest Lucas, division head; Mr. Richard R. Schaefer, physical education; Fr. Lucas, education.

"Upperclassmen", Valpo At 1959 Homecoming

by Glenn Clauser

The New Upperclassmen Dance Band will sound a swinging welcome for returning alumni and students at Homecoming on Oct. 24. The Puma gridders are coming home to face the Crusaders from Valparaiso, a traditional Homecoming opponent, in the afternoon gridiron battle.

Alumni will begin arriving on campus Friday morning and at 7:00 in the evening Collegeville will rock to the cheers of alumni and student body at a pep rally.

Saturday will be the big day. The Pumas will battle it out with the Crusaders at 2:00 in the afternoon. The Valpo game is always well-fought, but as coach Iofredo remarked at the DePauw pep rally, "We're going to win, win, win."

Following the game the alumni will hold their annual Cocktail Hour in the Rec hall. Homecoming arrangements have been designed to make the returning alumni feel at home on the campus.

Seniors and alumni will be drawn to the Rec hall at 9:00 p.m. by the sweet sounds of the Upperclassmen under the direction of Edward Laude. The evening will be filled with dancing, relaxation, and refreshments.

A special feature of this year's homecoming will be the reunions of the classes of '34, '49 and '54. As last year, the senior class will act as hosts during the festivities.

Bob Gallaher, senior class president, is in charge of the entire homecoming. Bob urges the students to make the homecoming a success by getting started NOW on hall decorations. An award is given to the hall having the best homecoming decorations on campus.

Campus Walks, Buildings Enlarged In SJ Summer Improvement Work

by Ed McGee

Grass, grass and more grass grew under St. Joe's this summer. No, this was not a period of stagnation but just the opposite. The grass spoken of is the new grass in the quadrangle. This welcome sight meant the end of a two-month project to replace the sidewalk. This is the most visible of the many improvements in the continued renovation of the college physical plant.

Many other remodeling ventures were undertaken, some costing even more than the sidewalk project which cost $7500. That sum includes removal of trees and old walks plus installation of a drainage system, actual construction of the new walks and sowing of grass. The expanded book store is another improvement for better service to the students. As part of this project the shower room was moved from the basement to the upper floors.

Halls Also Remodeled

The former student dormitory in the north science building has been converted to a classroom. Complete remodeling of the White house has been completed. The old sisters' quarters, now named Aquinas hall, has been repainted and now houses about 52 students. Drexel hall has been improved to the amount of $12,000. These improvements were all outlined in the March 25 issue of Stuff and every one of the proposals were carried out.

There were also many other projects carried out during the summer. Bennett and Noll halls were treated on the exterior with a silicone sealer along with caulking and puttying. Halas hall was completely painted on the inside. Another large development taken on at a cost of $15,000 was the new priests' dining room and oratory.

A new refrigerator has been installed in the kitchen giving an additional 650 cubic feet of freezer space. An electric griddle capable of handling 2000 hamburgers an hour was installed along with a new oven which needed a new 225 kilowatt transformer.

The old administration building show room is being converted into space for a printing room, lavatories, and a new office for the Dean of Men. Along with this, many of the other administration offices will be moved around in the future. Last, but not least for many, a new milk shake machine has been installed in the Rec hall for faster service for all Puma shake-lovers.

Anatomy of An Initiation: Cool, Methodical Mayhem

Freshmen think it's a treat to beat their feet on the Pumaville mud.

by Mike Doyle

"Hey frosh! Where's your beanie? Frosh, where's your bib?" So goes the call of the sophomores. Shine shoes, make beds, carry packages, dust furniture, shine more shoes, make more beds, carry more packages, dust more furniture. This is the life of the freshmen.

Yep, you guessed it. It's initiation time again. Two weeks of "Torturing Newcomers" is being put into effect by industrious sophomores. What do people think of these ceremonies? An official survey taken by the C.S.R.A.D. (Collegeville Statistical Report & Analysis Department) shows these interesting facts.

Frosh "Like" Treatment

Of the many freshmen interviewed a surprising 84.4% thought that they were being given fair treatment. At the same time 10.2% were positive they were being picked upon, while 5.4% were undecided.

As for the sophomores, another C.S.R.A.D. survey showed that an overwhelming 99.44% considered the treatment of this year's class to be too lenient. They admitted that the majority of the frosh were cooperative and eager to do the right thing. "In fact," said one well-known sophomore, "everyone has been so cooperative we feel guilty making them work. But," he added, "just the same, some work must be given to the frosh in order to uphold the true nature of the occasion."

Frosh Learn Virtues

Both freshmen and sophomores did agree on one point; this year's initiation was very well-planned. They also agreed that a well-planned initiation helps a new student familiarize himself with campus life. The event seemed to be planned in order to teach the frosh many virtues which will be helpful during the coming year. The frosh are learning:

- Obedience: during clean-up day;
 - Knowledge: in the learning of the rules and song;
 - Cleanliness: in stripping the ground of cigarettes;
 - Patience: in putting up with sophomores;
 - Sportsmanship: during the rough and tumble game of commando basketball;
 - Humility: in wearing the bib and beanie;
 - Fear of the Lord: in Kangaroo Court.
- The last word for this article comes from a freshman who gives this word of advice to boys applying for admission in '60, "JUST WAIT UNTIL NEXT YEAR!"

President To Hold Reception For Parents

St. Joe's annual President's Reception will be held in the fieldhouse on Sunday, Oct. 18. The program gives the parents a chance to get acquainted with the faculty and discuss any questions they may have about their sons' education.

Fr. Raphael H. Gross, the president of the college will give the welcoming address.

There will be a short program in which the Glee club and the college band as well as one of the student combos will entertain the parents. After this, a buffet luncheon will be served in the fieldhouse.

Each academic division will have a separate table at which the professors will be able to meet and talk with the parents. The program will be much like it was last year.

Bob Gallaher and Matt Lynch are the students in charge of making arrangements for the reception. There will be a student master of ceremonies but he has not as yet been selected.

The annual socio-cultural exchange between St. Joe and midwestern girls' colleges begins tonight (Thursday) with a mixer at the College of St. Francis in Joliet.

Girls from Mundelein, St. Francis and St. Mary-of-the-Woods will be at Collegeville Saturday for the first home mixer.

The Pumas Are Heading Up! Let's Give Them A Big Boost

Bring out the victory bell, St. Joe's Pumas are on the way!

Yes, this can very well be another good year for the Pumas, as was evidenced last Saturday at DePauw when the St. Joe 11 unveiled its bag of tricks and kicks before a very representative crowd of "hootin' and hollerin'" spectators.

Now's the big question—Can, and will, we keep it up? Sure, we like to see those crushing tackles made by Ray Regner, those near-perfect 46 yard runs by George Connelly, the hop-skip-and-a-jump over the line by Dick Romo and the holes opened up by Vince Goeddeke that any far-sighted soldier could drive an 8-wheeled army truck through.

So, let's show them we really do appreciate their efforts. Let's get behind them in such great numbers and with such loud endeavor that this small, but powerful, team will be actually pushed into the ICC throne.

Now's our chance! Ahead of us we have many pep rallies, send-offs, and, best of all, Homecoming. Outside of the game itself, these are the only times we can push. So let's push hard. Let's push hard like the crowd standing in the rain last Saturday pushed hard to help the Pumas to their first ICC victory of the year.

Pep rallies! These are just great for the team. Freshmen turn out in great multitudes just to see what they're like. Sophomores merely turn out to see what the commotion is all about and juniors and seniors oftentimes turn away rather than out. And again, who makes all the noise? The freshmen, who merely went to make themselves known. The majority of the upperclassmen that are present just stand around and watch everybody else show their appreciation for a team that has worked hard and long for many days.

Now, the send-off! These are worse than ridiculous. Improvement is all we can ask in this department because everyone knows the situation that exists. We've all seen at least one send-off. About 50 guys out of 1,000, gathered around a bus weakly muttering words of encouragement to the departing players.

Homecoming! Often one of the better shows of "team" spirit on the campus. Let's hope that preparations are already being formulated for the largest Homecoming ever.

Again, guys, now is our chance. Let's not lose this opportunity to follow the example set by the hard-working Student Council and cheerleaders to make this the year WE pushed the Pumas.

Rensselaer, Collegeville Head For Peaceful Coexistence Era

During the past year relations with the city of Rensselaer were at a rather touchy stage. Students of the college formed some unpleasant opinions in their minds about the town and the same was true in the opposite direction.

To begin the 1959-60 school year off right, the Rensselaer newspaper and the town merchants banded together in a community effort to bring school-town relationships to a more pleasant tone. Featured on four of the six pages of the town paper was St. Joseph's college.

Now we must look over the situation objectively. These people have extended their hand first in welcoming the students back to the campus. To them we can only be thankful for shooting the starting gun on a remedy to the situation.

Now it is up to us to carry this project through. As students of St. Joe we can do nothing but benefit by improving our relationships with the town.

The people of Rensselaer are trying to build a peaceful town with peaceful people. Anyone trying to disrupt this atmosphere simply does not fit into the picture.

One of the most important ways of beginning this attempt for harmony is to cultivate a certain respect for this growing town. Wisecracks and perfect harmony simply do not mix in the human relations field.

Let us then salute the townspeople and show them that we can carry the ball too.

Go, Go, Go, ... Around "Go" Says Gamester

Dear Editor;

Since you have always encouraged constructive ideas to be sent in to the editors of Stuff, we feel that you will be more than mildly interested in what we have to say.

As you may or may not be aware, the studious residents of Bennett hall have, during the past few weeks, been engaging in some very intricate problems of high finance, including the essentials of stock manipulation, real estate, banking and other legal entities of a contractual nature.

While we have found this new interest to be of priceless educational value, we have also found it to be both fascinating and enjoyable to the extent that we are willing to sacrifice many hours of sleep, study and drinking for this purpose.

Through this new hobby we have found that many non-economics majors have suddenly developed a great interest in these

by Tom Cusick

(Ed. Note: This column was started last year to provide the students of St. Joe with an individual's viewpoint of the workings of the Student Council. It must be remembered that this column is not necessarily a Council "mouthpiece.")

At the September 23 meeting of the Student Council, a plea was made by the campus leaders of the National Federation of Catholic College Students for the solution to a most pressing problem. It had been decided by the 16th National Congress of NFCCS to increase the dues from 10c per student to 50c per student per school year. This is a radical increase in one big jump. The big question is: Should we pay this? And if so, how?

It was just last spring when the students of St. Joe's decided by vote to rejoin the organization after they had dropped out some four years ago. How many knew exactly what they were voting for is questionable. Be that as it may, we're now in an organized group that is devoted to the promotion of Catholic Action on the college campus. The NFCCS program, among other things, includes lectures and workshops on topics which are pertinent to the lay Catholic college student today. If we thought this a worthwhile program last spring when we voted it in, then it should still be so.

The problem then is: How do we pay the bill? There are three possibilities: First, one dollar could be collected from each student to cover the national and regional dues and the cost of the local projects. The regional dues will remain at $50 per school. This means would raise $1,000. From past experience, however, we are all aware of the inefficiency of this scheme as was exemplified by the struggle to collect the movie fees last year. Not to mention the bitterness that many students would show towards it.

Secondly, the administration of the school could pick up the tab for it all. This obviously would be the easiest on the student body, but here you would be asking for money from a group with a large standing debt and a group who just this year found it necessary to increase the fees once again in order to stay in business. I doubt that they could afford it.

The third and final alternative is to have the Student Council pay the bill. Naturally, if you spend money one place, then you have to cut back somewhere else. Since the program was approved by the students, we should give the program at least a one year trial run. What we are all concerned with is the value which we receive from the money we spend. To support this program for one year will probably mean the sacrificing of a mixer each semester. At the end of the year let the Council sit down and review the activities of the NFCCS group and decide whether they have been worth the sacrifice that was made to support them. If they have not produced as they were expected to, then go back to spending the money on other things. If they should produce, however, then continue their support. Though to finance the testing of this project means the sacrificing of a mixer, it seems that it would be worth it.

Random notes: Mr. Richard J. Flynn, a St. Joe grad himself, has replaced Fr. Donald F. Shea as the moderator of the Student Council. The choice of the Aquinas Lounge as the site of the Council meetings is something new. Don't you wonder, though, if possibly a larger room would make it easier for a greater number of the student body to attend?

Puma Growls

Here's Hail To Un-Hailed Ones

Dear Editor:

Stuff is lacking! Stuff covers academic news, sports news and has a fine collection of feature articles, but Stuff is lacking in its coverage of one of the most important areas of campus activity. Stuff devotes little or no space to the non-academic campus workers and their efforts to make St. Joseph's livable and pleasant.

The two men on Bro. Larry's staff work hard to keep the halls free of litter. True, their job doesn't sound newsworthy, but wouldn't our halls be a mess without them? What do they feel about the school, the students, etc.? How about the school electrician? Without him this campus would be in a state of darkened chaos. How many students know about the work on the farm, in the kitchen, and in the powerhouse from the employees' point of view.

Everybody should be "news" to Stuff. The non-academic employees deserve a space in our campus paper. It would give them the feeling of belonging to the school community, and in a small way show appreciation for their essential work in maintaining the campus.

I wonder if any other readers feel the same about this lack in Stuff's pages? Perhaps they disagree. I would like to know what their reaction would be to a column devoted to the people who are responsible for the material care of the campus.

Sincerely,
Glenn Clausen, N. 228

fields. These interests should not be squelched. They should be fed and cultivated so that every student graduating from St. Joseph's has satiated his natural desire for learning along these lines.

In these new dealings we have found that we have been able to understand, in a practical manner, such financial hazards involved with hotel management, mortgaging, bartering and luxury taxes.

Therefore, we respectfully suggest that a course be introduced to the curriculum of this college so that all the students may benefit as we have. A possible and very appropriate name for this course might be "Monopoly 41."

7 Profs Added To Faculty; St. Joseph's NFCCS Delegates Replace 6 Leaving College Plan Catholic Action Program

Seven new faculty members have been added to the St. Joseph's college teaching staff, while six have left.

The new appointees are: J. A. Abraham, M.A., Ph.D.; Robert W. Morrell, M.B.A., Ph.D.; Sr. M. Audrey Bourgeois, M.A.; Sr. M. Delphine Kolker, M.A., Ph.D.; Rev. Cyril Sutter, C.P.P.S., M.S., Ph.D.; Richard J. Flynn, M.B.A., C.P.A., and Martin D. Ryan, M.A.

Mr. Abraham joins the English department. He received his M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin and taught at Loras College.

Dr. Morrell is an assistant professor of business at St. Joseph's. He received his M.B.A. from the University of Chicago in 1950 and his Ph.D. from St. Louis University in 1957. Dr. Morrell was on the teaching staff at the University of Detroit. Previously he had taught at St. Louis and DePaul Universities.

Sr. M. Audrey Bourgeois assumed duties in the education department. She received her M.A. from Catholic University and was an instructor at the sisters' college in Washington, D.C., Catholic University.

Sr. M. Delphine Kolker an assistant professor of English. She received her M.A. from Catholic University in 1944 and her Ph.D. from the same university in 1952.

Mr. Flynn is an instructor in the accounting department and Mr. Ryan became an instructor in the sociology department. Mr. Flynn is a 1957 graduate of St. Joseph's and Mr. Ryan is a 1958 graduate of the college.

Fr. Sutter, who received his M.S. in education at Fordham University in 1957 and is a Ph.D. candidate at the same school, has a dual appointment. He will teach the first semester at St. Charles Seminary, Carthage and the second semester at St. Joseph's College. He will be an instructor in psychology.

Fr. Lawrence F. Heiman, M.A., L.C.G., M.C.G., rejoins the college staff as associate professor of music. Father Heiman has been on leave of absence in Rome, Italy, for the past two years while doing advanced studies.

Leaving the St. Joseph's teaching staff were Walter L. Blackledge, M.A., J.D., Ph.D., Sr. M. Petronella Schroeder, M.S., Ph.D., Sr. M. Theona Smith, M.A., Rev. James I. Birkley, M.A., Rev. Joseph F. Scheuer, M.A., Ph.D., and Mr. Robert Jauron.

New Honors Program Begins This Semester

A new experimental honors system, known as the "All-College Honors Program," went into effect at St. Joe this fall. Under this plan, special honors courses will be offered each semester to certain students who qualify for the program. These courses will be listed in the college catalogue as part of the newly established Honors Department.

According to the proposed catalogue statement, the purpose of this new program is to "enable exceptional students to broaden and deepen their knowledge by enrolling in courses offered by the Honors Department."

For the present time at least, the old Honors Program will remain in effect, unchanged. Requirements for the program will be the same as in the past.

The plan of the new system is to get the best teachers and the best students together in small informal classes. There will be a minimum of class meetings, thereby leaving the burden of learning directly on the student. Class procedure will be left entirely to the instructor's discretion.

Participation in the new program is by invitation from the Office of the Academic Dean. Students become eligible for the program upon completion of their freshman year and those who are invited to participate are assigned to a special Honors Committee which assists them in arranging their program.

To be graduated with All-College Honors, the required cumulative index (3.00) and a minimum of five Honors Department courses from at least three different departments are necessary. These courses may also be substituted for the graduation requirement of 12 hours in a minor.

Three courses will be offered by the new department this fall. Sr. Audrey will teach "Comparative Education" (Ed H101); Fr. Shea will lecture on "Medieval Institutions" (Hist H103); and Fr. Bierberg will offer "Studies in Comparative Religion" (Theo H105). Each course is three hours.

Offer Fulbright Scholarship For Foreign Study Plans

Only two months remain to apply for some 900 Fulbright scholarships for study or research in 28 countries, the Institute of International Education reminded prospective applicants today. Applications are being accepted until Nov. 1.

Inter-American Cultural Convention awards for study in 17 Latin American countries have the same filing deadline.

Recipients of Fulbright wards for study in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area will receive tuition, maintenance and round-trip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial maintenance costs. IIE administers both of these student programs for the U. S. Department of State.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U. S. citizenship at time of application; 2) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1960; 3) knowledge of the language of the host country; and 4) good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and a good academic record are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out profitably within the year abroad. Successful candidates are required to be affiliated with approved institutions of higher learning abroad.

Enrolled students at a college or university should consult the campus Fulbright adviser for information and applications. Others may write to the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th St., New York 21, New York or to any of IIE's regional offices.

Competitions for the 1960-61 academic year close November 1, 1959. Requests for application forms must be postmarked before October 15. Completed applications must be submitted by November 1.

57 Named To Past Semester Dean's List

Fr. Edward A. Maziarz, academic dean of St. Joe, has announced the Dean's List for the second semester of the past school year. Totaling 57 students, the second semester list contains seven more names than that of the first semester.

Comprising this total were 21 seniors, 7 juniors, 14 sophomores and 15 freshmen. Requirements for making the list are that the student must be a full-time student and must have a grade-point index of 3.50 or better. All those making the list are excused from the requirements of the cut system for the following grade period, unless the instructor rules otherwise.

Seniors listed by the Dean are: Sr. M. Benildes Ante, George F. Borge, John M. Cannon, James P. Egan, Leroy M. Ellgass, Frank R. Fitzgerald, Richard E. Gallo, Sr. M. Celine Grilliot, Ronald L. Guertin, John W. Hancock, Robert A. Hoffswell, Joseph M. Kanamueller, Leo A. Kominek, Raymond A. Krizmanic, William J. McCrea, John C. Neff, Patrick U. Opara, Walter W. Rossmannith, Peter O. Warner, Joseph M. Watson, and Daniel F. Wilkinson.

Juniors included are: James J. Blanz, James C. Caswell, Charles A. Faucher, Ronald P. Koron, Gregory J. Mahoney, Robert J. Smit and Edward J. Starshak.

Sophomores on the list are: Edward J. Bankerk, David A. Beran, Stephen J. Chovanec, William J. Cormack, Harry J. Creager, Edmund B. Daly, Joseph F. Fitzgerald, Charles W. Henes, Daniel M. Lewandowski, William J. Malley, Max B. Meuser, Charles K. Myers, Alan V. Purcell and Thomas Schoenbaum.

SJ Yearbook Out Sometime Before Oct. 24

Issues of the 1958-59 edition of the college yearbook, Phase, should be distributed to all sophomores, juniors and seniors sometime before Homecoming, Oct. 24, providing no unforeseen difficulties occur to hold up the date of issuance.

Editor Joe Lambke explained today that Phase wasn't distributed on the day of registration because of a delay caused during the summer when part of the book was lost in the mail.

As was announced last year, the annuals are being printed by Myer's Yearbooks, Inc., of Topeka, Kan. Printing was begun last spring but was not completed since it was necessary to wait for the section on graduation and the junior prom before final copy could be readied for the printer.

Lambke also announced that the staff for this year's book will soon be formed and that help will be needed in many departments. Copywriters and photographers are most needed by the staff, he said, and anyone interested in this type of work, experienced or not, should watch the daily bulletin for announcement of the first meeting of this semester.

(Ed. Note: St. Joseph's delegates to NFCCS believe that the program listed below can be very beneficial to all the students on the campus. The practical problem of financing these programs still remains. The NFCCS program would represent a cost of at least $1,000 to the Student Council. Since SC funds are limited, the Council does not wish to deplete these funds more than necessary. Therefore, two likely alternatives exist—the SC could pay the dues, approximately $550 per year, and give the NFCCS approximately $450 in working capital, or the student could submit to an assessment of $1.00 per person per year. Students are asked to study these programs and submit their opinion to members of the SC in written form within the next week.)

On Aug. 31 through Sept. 5, the National Federation of Catholic College Students held a national congress in St. Louis, Mo. The purpose of this congress, at which 194 Catholic colleges in the United States were represented, was to review the policy of the Federation in the past and to set up a program for the present school year which would benefit as many of its 110,000 members as possible.

Defined as a channel for Catholic Action on the college campus, NFCCS serves as a helping hand to many of the organizations at each college and sponsors programs of its own in the fields of student affairs, social action affairs, religious affairs and international affairs.

By far, the biggest problem met by the NFCCS executive committee on the national level for years has been the lack of funds to build the organization up to its proper level as a unified body of thousands of college students.

National Dues Raised

Delegates to the congress argued the pros and cons of suggested solutions to this financial problem for four hours on the congress floor, and many hours off the floor. Discussion being completed, a vote was taken on a solution offered by the national officers and the delegates passed a proposal to raise the national dues for each of its member colleges from 10c per student to 50c per student.

With this large jump in national dues, a program was set up to use this money in a worthwhile way to bring the organization up to the levels desired on each campus.

St. Joe's delegates, John Norris and Joe Kanamueller, have announced a program for NFCCS on the Collegeville campus which they will attempt to carry out if these national dues are paid and if sufficient funds are provided for this program and for expenses of delegates attending the national congress held every summer. This total figure has been estimated by the delegates to be approximately $1.00 per student per year.

Campus Program Listed

Included in the program to be set up on campus are:

a Family Life Institute, consisting in a series of talks by people in various walks of life on the problems of married life;

a program of discussions between representatives of the administration, faculty and students on the problems in higher education today, emphasizing local problems. This discussion will be carried over to the regional level where a selected group from each campus will discuss these problems with persons from other colleges, and finally a nation-wide discussion of these problems with results being published by the national office and sent to educational publications and organizations;

a program of speakers and discussion on the effects of Communism today and its set-up in Russia, with speakers being brought in from outside sources;

aiding in the education of the natives of South Africa who are refused such education by their government because of racial discrimination. This scholarship program will be carried out under the auspices of the Federation's College and University Relief Administration, which has had contact with these people for many years; encouraging scholarships to St. Joe for students of the U. S. mission fields of the southwest, who cannot afford to pay for an education themselves, with the Federation handling the contacts with these people;

aid in the liturgical movements ordered by Pope Pius XII and the bishops of the United States;

Danforth Appointments Open To 1960 Graduates

The Danforth Foundation, an educational foundation located in St. Louis, Mo., invites applications for the ninth class (1960) of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1960, for their first year of graduate study. The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of Natural and Biological Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

President R. H. Gross has named Fr. Edward Maziarz as the Liaison Officer at St. Joseph's to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for these 1960 fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need.

The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $1500 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students; for married Fellows, $2,000 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students with an additional stipend of $500 for each child. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by Jan. 31, 1960. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with Fr. Maziarz.

Iofredo Head Football Coach; Dwyer, Holstein Added to Staff

Sweeping changes were made in St. Joe's athletic coaching staff during the summer months. Joe Iofredo, a familiar man in Pumasville as head basketball coach, was named head football coach to replace Bob Jauron who resigned last April.

Two new assistant coaches also joined the St. Joe sports department, Edward F. Dwyer of Indianapolis and James H. Holstein of Hamilton, O. Both men will assist Coach Iofredo in football and Holstein, former professional basketball player, will also be assistant basketball coach. Dwyer, in addition, will coach the golf and tennis teams and will be in charge of physical training while Holstein has also been named track coach.

Iofredo came to St. Joe in 1957 as assistant coach in both football and basketball. He took over the basketball reins last year and led the Pumas to a 12-11 mark and fourth place in the ICC with a 6-6 record.

Begins Career in '46

A native of Cleveland and a 1946 graduate of Western Reserve University, the 35 year old Iofredo compiled an eight-year high school head coaching record of 11-5 in football, 128-43 in basketball and 41-12 in baseball. He came to St. Joe from Hamilton Catholic high school, O.

Iofredo began his coaching career in 1946 as assistant football, wrestling and baseball coach at Shaker Heights high school in Cleveland. The next year he moved to Benedictine High School, also in Cleveland, where he was assistant football and basketball coach for two years.

From 1949-52, Iofredo was head basketball and baseball coach and assistant football coach at Wheeling Central high school in Wheeling, W.Va. His basketball teams compiled a three year record of 61-8 and captured the conference and state championships all three years. His baseball teams had a 41-12 mark and he helped the football squad to a 12-9 three year record.

His next post was at Chaminade high school in Dayton, O., in 1952-53. He took over the basketball reins there and compiled a 12-8 record and assisted with the football squad, which finished with a 9-1 mark.

For the next four years, he was head basketball coach at Hamilton Catholic high school, where his teams won 55 and lost 27. He was also head football coach during his last two years there, in 1955 and 1956, and won 11 and lost five.

Dwyer, Holstein Careers

Dwyer, a 1951 graduate of Howe-high school in Indianapolis, received his B.S. and M.A. degrees in physical education from Purdue University. He played football for the Boilermakers in 1951-52 and in 1956-57, and was assistant football coach at Purdue last year. Dwyer played end and tackle for Purdue and played tackle in 1954 for Ft. Sill, Okla. Ft. Sill was National Service champion that year.

For the past three years, Holstein, former professional basketball player for Minneapolis and Fort Wayne, has been head basketball and baseball coach at Sycamore high school in Cincinnati, where he compiled a 33-23 record in basketball and a 40-28 mark in baseball. He was also an assistant coach in football and track. Holstein is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati.

"JoJo"-and Friend-Gallop To Fame In Pick-Up Race

The Grey Ghost rides again! Racing out of the south, Bro. Larry and his much fabled horse, JoJo, rode to undying fame this summer by taking third place honors in a pick-up race on July 4. The event was sponsored by the Jasper County Saddle Club.

A pick-up race, for the city-bred reader's information, is an event requiring great skill and coordination on the part of two humans and of course, the horse. The horse gallops towards a barrel, placed an appropriate distance from the starting line. Simple! However... there is a man standing on the barrel. As the horse rounds it this man must vault onto the horse's back. First horse (complete with two riders) back to the starting line wins.

Bro. Larry was a familiar sight to area residents during the summer. Garbed in a Confederate hat and giving proper encouragement to JoJo, he practiced for the big race almost daily. Their joint training started early last spring, when Bro. and JoJo could be seen behind Gallagher hall romping in the swampland.

Tex, as Bro. Larry is called by campus wits, is looking forward to winning his spurs. After all, he has to have something to go with the Confederate hat. That ought to give someone an idea for a Christmas present.

It was only after a bit of gentle persuasion that Bro. Larry revealed his part in the race. He is a modest man!

Bro. Larry says, "JoJo and I are just friends."

Rudolph Volz Alumni Head

Rudolph L. Volz, Jr., a '53 St. Joe grad, has been named to the post of college alumni director. A native of Louisville, Ky., he and his family moved to Rensselaer late last July so that he could assume his new post last Aug. 1.

Mr. Volz's duties will consist of developing the national Alumni association as an effective unit of the college, editing Contact, the alumni newspaper, and helping the organization of local alumni chapters. He will also assist Fr. Richard P. Baird, admissions counselor, with student recruitment.

While a student at St. Joe, Mr. Volz was a school photographer and cheerleader and a member of the Monogram, Commerce, and Drama clubs and of the yearbook and newspaper staffs. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in social sciences.

Sets Foreign Service Exam

The State Department has announced that the next written Foreign Service Officer examination will be held Dec. 5, 1959. All applications to take the written examination must be received by Oct. 19, 1959.

Application forms and other information may be obtained from Mr. Richard F. Scharf, the college placement director.

Candidates must be at least 21 and under 32 years of age as of the closing date for receipt of applications. Persons 20 years of age may apply only if they hold a bachelor's degree or are seniors in college. Applicants must be American citizens of at least nine years' standing.

Those successful in the written examinations will, within nine months, be given an oral examination. Candidates recommended by oral examining panels will then be given a physical examination and a background investigation. Qualified candidates will be placed on a register in the order of examination scores, and appointments will be made from it as necessary.

Between The Lines

by Greg Mahoney

One of the more profound quotes of the cap-snapping, back-slapping, cork-popping that was the White Sox pennant clinching was uttered by Jack Brickhouse on the plane back from Cleveland: "Well, fans, this is the end of a long dry spell—in more ways than one."

The 19th century Romantic poet William Wordsworth may have had an Aquinas Hall in mind when he penned in 1807 these lines of a sonnet:

"Nuns fret not at their convent's narrow room;
And hermits are contented with their cells;
And students with their pensive citadels..."

For those who are interested, the dimensions of the phone booth by the fieldhouse are: 7 ft. high, 2½ ft. wide and 3½ ft. deep, or a total of 61¼ cubic ft.

Unofficial reports from the south say that 18 Purdue men snuggled into a phone booth recently. Surely we cannot let that mark go unchallenged...

We thank the Rensselaer Republican for giving St. Joe such a big spread last week. We hope that this is a sign that peaceful coexistence and close friendship will exist forever among our peoples and that armed aggression on either side may be avoided. Some day STUFF would like to do a big feature on Rensselaer, too—if Charlie Halleck or the Queen, or somebody should happen to visit it.

Say what you like, but I think that Nikita Krushchev is a funny man—even if he doesn't come from Mount Idy. How can a person as fat and jolly as Mr. K. be as calculating and evil as everyone says he is. When he keeps saying "We will bury you," he's only trying to crack a sly sadist joke like "Nice moon tonight. I wonder whose it is."

How could a big, jovial man who pats little children on the head and asks to see Disneyland be the suppressor of millions and the uncompromising crusader of world tyranny?

So put away your black arm bands and "Go Home" signs. He'll probably die of heartburn from too much chicken and peas, anyway, and then some mean-looking, non-smiling Rusky will take his place... and then watch out. Daley and Quinn will have reason to turn on those sirens.

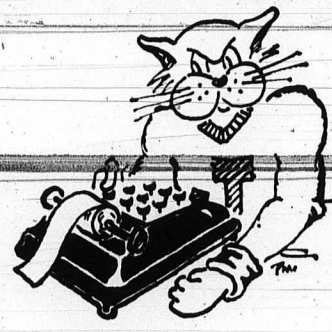

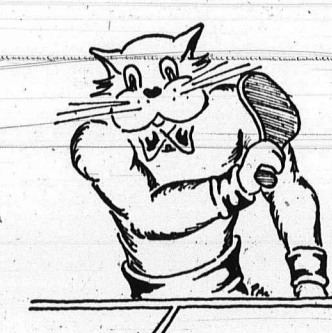

"Campus," in the lingo of the ancient Paisanos, originally meant "an open field used for warlike exercises." The appropriateness of this term in modern life becomes evident when one see hundreds of freshmen herded across the grounds by the sophomores in Bataan-like ranks, and green beanies—and even greener faces—splattered with mud.

Yet, credit must be given to this year's sophomores for a well-organized and systematic approach to the traditional initiation ceremonies. They have abandoned the medieval concept of "physical hurt" and have introduced the subtler form of psychocological, mud-splashed brain-washing.

Congratulations to the sophomores and may next year's sophs profit by their example.

Intramurals

by Bill Fortin

Monday's action on the football fields marked the beginning of this year's extensive intramural sports program. The program is divided into two main areas—major sports to be played in the round-robin schedules, and special activities and tournaments. Football, basketball, volleyball, bowling, and 12 and 16 inch softball make up the major sports, while the special activities include horseshoes, golf, tennis, football events, ping pong, the free throw tournament, and track and field events. If all goes as planned, the IM league bowlers, under Bill Holland, will be on the Maple Lanes by the middle of next week. Some special IM feature events are on the drawing boards for Homecoming weekend; more about that later.

A glance at this year's IM football shows optimism on the faces of many of the upper-class captains, what with the graduation of the Bennett 7-7's, last year's champs who piled up eight victories against only one defeat. With so many shifts in team memberships since last season, there are only a few teams with basically the same roster, including the Bennett Overtakers and the Noll Horsemen. These two teams, along with the Gallagher Guzzlers, compiled identical records of 7-2 in 1958 for a three-way tie for second place. Their past record and the fact that they've worked together before might indicate that the Overtakers and the Horsemen will be the teams to beat. The story on the unproven freshman teams remains to be seen.

Of special interest to new students and freshmen might be the All-Sports Trophy, awarded to the hall which accumulates the highest total of points in the IM point system. Points are given on the basis of greatest percentage of participation by a hall in the intramural program throughout the year, and on the basis of performance by the hall teams. Last year the trophy went to Noll Hall.

With the bowling rosters not yet out, team standings cannot be foreseen. But the individual keggers to watch will be Ed Starshak, Dick Nietzel and Ron Piermattei with respective averages last season of 178, 177, and 169. As teammates on the Noll Overtakers they helped bowl that team to a championship.

To the advantage of all concerned, the IM Department, under the direction of Bob Decker, has constructed an extra football field this year, field number six. It will be used for auxiliary purposes and in the event of a larger league in the future.

The Mills of N. E. Mo. Grind Fine Over SJ, 18-16

In the opening game of the season for both St. Joe's and Northeast Missouri State, Dale Mills, the NCAA's leading rusher last season, single-handedly led the Bulldogs to an 18-16 victory over the St. Joseph's college Pumas. Despite Mills, though, the Pumas led the Missourians in the total yards department, 262 to 239.

St. Joseph's was led by Mike Murphy, Les Klein and Dick Romo—three of only 16 Pumas who saw action—who gained 64, 57 and 55 yards respectively. Klein also grabbed two passes for 68 yards. Quarterback Ralph Gardner, who played the entire game on offense, hit on four of eight passes for 79 yards.

St. Joseph's kicked off and on the first play from scrimmage Romo intercepted a pass on the Missouri 35 and returned it to the 28. After a penalty and a seven yard loss, St. Joe's fought back to the 13 and on fourth down Dave Beran split the uprights from 21 yards out to give the Pumas a 3-0 lead. Seconds after the St. Joseph's kickoff, Mills broke up the middle and raced 10 yards for the score. The conversion try failed.

The Pumas came storming back and marched 65 yards in 13 plays, with Murphy picking up 32 of the yards, including the final four, to forge into the lead, 9-6. Beran's extra point attempt failed.

Halfway through the second quarter, Mills put Missouri back into the lead from 36 yards out. The Bulldogs' try for extra point failed and the score showed 12-9.

After the halftime intermission, St. Joe's again opened the scoring quickly. It took the Pumas only eight plays to move 74 yards. Klein ended the drive by taking Gardner's quick jump pass and breaking into the clear for a 42 yard touchdown play. Beran converted and the Pumas led 16-12. Northeast Missouri began their drive for the winning TD late in the third quarter and Mills scored again with 12:14 to go in the game.

Pumas Face Butler, Saturday; Meet Loras Here, On Oct. 10

Butler University's Bulldogs, defending ICC champions, invade Pumasville Saturday, Oct. 3, for the Pumas' first home game of the year. Coach Tony Hinkle, beginning his 22nd grid campaign at Butler, has been working with a 52 man squad. Half of these players are returning from last year's team which produced eight victories and one defeat. The only defeat came at the hands of Ball State by a score of 14 to 7.

Coach Hinkle has 15 returning lettermen. Of these, fullback Kent Stewart and halfback Cliff Oilar, both ALL-ICC selections last year, are expected to carry the backfield load along with fullback Egidio Caporale, the second leading ground-gainer on the '58 team. Butler has won 7 and lost 6 with one tie since the series began with St. Joe's.

Moses, Furnish Game
Probably the worst loss from the 1958 Butler team is quarterback John Moses, who was taken by graduation in June, but the Buldogs will also feel the loss of their Little All-American guard and ICC lineman of the year, Paul Furnish. Replacements for these two strong men will probably be Ken Long or Bob Stryzinski at the QB post and John Kollins at the guard position.

Coach Hinkle claims that his squad will rely chiefly on a strong offense, powered by a two-deep backfield with speed, experience and know-how. Against this, the Pumas will be fielding a backfield, abundant in the speed department, behind an experienced first-team front line with few replacements.

Loras Comes Back
Returning to the Puma battlefield on October 10 will be the Loras college Duhawks from Dubuque, Ia. Head Coach Robert Zahren plans to use his Wing-T this year as he did last year when he ended the season with three victories against five defeats.

Nineteen returning lettermen will enable Coach Zahren to field a squad that spent many hours last year learning the Wing-T from scratch.

Duhawk Q.B.'s Inexperienced
Calling the signals for the Duhawks will be one of three possibilities, John Spiner, 160-pound sophomore, Eugene Winger, 155-pound freshman, or Louis Mascaro, 170-pound frosh. Coach Zahren claims that all any of these boys need is experience and confidence, which he feels they will pick up quickly.

At the fullback spot, the Pumas will meet up with a fast, pile-driving runner in the person of 200-pound sophomore, Dyrald Haag, better known as Dilly.

Fighting for the center position are three experienced men, John Ahern, Nick Campbell and Bob Obernesser, all tipping the scales at 215 pounds.

Looking over the team as a whole, Coach Zahren has only three seniors on his 51 man roster, which includes 4 juniors, 24 sophomores and 20 frosh.

Big Red Splashes To 19-0 Win Over DePauw In Wet Conference Opener

by Bob Rospenda

In weather reminiscent of the Aluminum Bowl game of a few years ago, the 1959 version of the fighting Pumas walked over DePauw university 19-0 last Saturday.

The stretcher bearers for DePauw got quite a workout as the Big Red played a hard-rushing, hard-hitting game at Greencastle, Ind. St. Joe gained 259 yards rushing, while DePauw was held to a mere 47. Neither team was able to complete a pass in the soggy surroundings.

Pumas Score First
St. Joe drew first blood when in the first period, Les Klein plunged over from the 3 yard line to make the score 6-0. A pass attempt for the two points failed.

Early in the second quarter both teams exchanged fumbles near the St. Joe goal line. DePauw had the ball on the Puma 15 when a vicious tackle behind the line, followed by a fumble, gave the Big Red the ball on their own 20. From there they marched into DePauw territory. George Connelly then broke through the DePauw secondary, out-manuevered one of the safety men, and outran the other as he exploded for 46 yards and the second Puma touchdown. Beran's place-kick was perfect, and the score stood 13-0.

ICC Standings

ICC Scores, Sat., Sept. 26:

St. Joe 19, DePauw 0
Valparaiso 24, Ball State 6
Evansville 8, Indiana State 6

ICC Games, Oct. 3:

Butler at St. Joe

Evansville at Valparaiso

DePauw at Indiana State

ICC Games, Oct. 10:

Valparaiso at DePauw

Ball State at Evansville

Indiana State at Butler

Half Score, 13-0

On the kickoff, St. Joe attempted an on-side kick, hoping one of the forward men would lose it on the sloppy field. Unfortunately he held on, but the half ended seconds later with the score St. Joseph's 13, DePauw 0.

Early in the third quarter DePauw was forced to punt once again. The Pumas returned the ball to midfield where they put their ground game to work again. Midfield where they put their ground game to work. Short drives brought the ball down to the five yard line of DePauw. Another play brought it down to the two, where Les Klein burrowed through for his second touchdown of the day. The conversion was unsuccessful, and the score stood at 19-0.

DePauw Fails Again

The best DePauw could do after that was to reach the 50 yard stripe, where a fourth down play failed and they relinquished the ball. The Pumas then proceeded to run out the clock. They punted on fourth down, and the game ended as the ball bounced merrily toward the DePauw goal line.

Leading ground-gainer for the Big Red was George Connelly with 93 net yards and an average of 6.2 yards per carry. He was followed closely by Les Klein with 85 yards and a 3.9 average.

College Doctor Johnson Dies

Dr. Cecil E. Johnson, college physician for 40 years, was killed in an automobile accident last summer. The Doctor and his wife, Gladys, were driving along Highway 53 between Montmorenci and Wolcott, when their car went off the road on a curve.

Mrs. Johnson survived the wreck but the Doctor never regained consciousness. He was buried Aug. 5 in Rensselaer.

This fall St. Joseph's was to have feted Dr. Johnson for his 40 years of service to the college. Dr. K. Ockermann has replaced Dr. Johnson as college physician.

Club News

The History club held its first meeting of the 1959-60 school year on Thursday evening, Sept. 24. Eighteen new members were inducted into the club for the new year.

Discussion followed on the club's raffle which will be held October 14. Proceeds from the raffle will be used to send club members on a tour of the Civil War sights in Kentucky and Tennessee. Numerous other projects were discussed, but these will be taken up in detail at the next club meeting.

Digamma Kappa Lambka, the campus organization of biology and chemistry majors, held its first meeting on Thursday, Sept. 24. Club members discussed the calendar for next year the coming, which highlights a series of guest speakers, including some of the St. Joseph's faculty members and some eminent biologists and chemists from the larger universities.

Two field trips are also planned, the first being held on October 6, when the club will visit Argonne National Laboratories, in Lamont, Ill. The second trip will take place some time in the spring and will be made to the Eli Lilly company, in Indianapolis.

Officers of the club for this year are Jack Belluci, pres.; Joe Fitzgerald, vice-president; Bob Smat, secretary; and Joe Kanamueller, treasurer.

The Motor City club held its first meeting of the semester on Tuesday, Sept. 22. Plans were made at this meeting for the annual Thanksgiving dance, to be held on Friday, Nov. 27, at the Embassy hall in Detroit. Tom Geffert was appointed head of a committee of five in charge of arrangements for the dance.

This past summer the club sponsored both a picnic and a party to keep the members in contact over the vacation.

Fr. Aloysius O'Dell has accepted the position of moderator, replacing Fr. Ernest Lucas, who had to withdraw due to ill health.

Eighteen new students have arrived on the St. Joe campus from the metropolitan Detroit area this fall.

The Glee club plans to give its first concert of this school year on October 18 at the President's Reception, sponsored by the Chicago Fathers and Mothers clubs.

Last spring the members of the Glee club elected the following officers: Henry Pictor, president; Ray Elenty, vice-president; and Don Regan, secretary-treasurer. Since Don Regan did not return to St. Joe this semester, it became necessary to elect a replacement for him. Instead of electing just one person, the club members amended the constitution to provide for the election of both a secretary and treasurer. Elected to these offices were: John Kiefer, secretary, and John Tatro, treasurer.

Fr. Lawrence Heiman has replaced Mr. Bernard Qubeck as this year's director of the club.

The Fort Wayne club will begin preparations for its Thanksgiving dance in the near future. New ideas are being considered at present for a change in the format of the dance from previous years.

The club sponsored a dance in the middle of July which resulted in a success, both financially and socially.

Upperclass club members spent a morning at Central Catholic high school in Fort Wayne, talking to the senior boys about St. Joe's and the general values of a college education.
